INDEX TO VOLUME XXXI.

Adventures, Nautical, 506
Africa, Geography of, 201
Aga, the, of the Janizaries, 239
Ambrosianæ, Noctes. See Noctes
America, British, M'Gregor's, 907
American Poetry, 646
Americans, domestic manners of the, 829
Art of Government made easy, 665
Barker, Mr E. H. and Professor Dunbar, letter from, 405
Belgian Question, 448—Abandonment of the Barrier, ib.—Guarantee of the throne of Belgium to Leopold, 456—The Russian Dutch Loan, 461—Signature of the Treaty guaranteeing the revolutionary throne to Leopold, 463
Bill, the New, 103
Bracelets, the, a sketch from the German, 39
Bristol Riots, what caused the, 465—Improper remissness of Ministers, ib.—Mr Protheroe, 466—Unfounded allegations of the Press, 467—Resolution to insult Sir Charles Wetherell, 468—Negotiation with the Home Secretary for permission to do so, 469—Previous Debate in the Commons, 472—Conduct of the Magistrates, ib.—Outcry against the Bishops, 474—Defence of Captain Lewis, 476—Demagogues of Bristol, 479
Britain, Prospects of, 569
British America, M'Gregor's, 907
British Finances, 598. See Finances
Brougham, Lord, reply to his Speech, 117—Earl Grey the English Neckar, 118—Treatment of the people by the Reforming leaders, 119—Jacobin intimidation, 120—Edinburgh Political Union, 122—The Birmingham Union, 123—The Ministry become mob-worshippers, 124—Consequent audacity of the populace, 125—Character of Lord Brougham's speech, 128—Reply to his argument on the question, Whether there ought to be a more direct representation of the people in the Commons? 130—Impossibility of the Crown appointing its own Ministers if close boroughs are destroyed, 132—Creation of Peers for passing the Reform bill, 133—Danger of encouraging the mob to outrage against those who oppose their opinions, 138—Affected loyalty of the Reformers, 139—True loyalty of the Tories, ib.—Reliance of the country on the steadiness of the Peers, 141—Duty of the Reformers in Parliament, 144
Bryant, William Cullen, 646
Calaspo, the republican, 928
Canning, Mr, and Lord Castlereagh, 520
Carmen Latine Redditum, 279
Castlereagh, Lord, and Mr Canning, 520
Castle, the, of the Isle of Rugen, 790
Cave, the Jewess of the, Part I. The Recognition, 820—Part II. The Confession, 822—Part III. The Pictures of the Prophets, 823—Part IV. The Interview with Cyrus, 826
Chateaubriand, No. I. Itinéraire, 553
Christopher at the Lakes, 858
Church, Established, letter to the Lord Chancellor on the, 181
Coleridge, S. T. Esq. What is an English Sonnet, by, 956—The Old Man's Sigh, a sonnet, by, ib.
Courtenay, Right Hon. T. P., letters from, concerning Lord Castlereagh and Mr Canning, 520, 951
Courtship, the Canny, 639
Creation of Peers, 386
Cringle, Tom, his Log, 195, 884
Cunningham, Allan, review of the Maid of Elvar, by, 981. See Elvar.
Dance of Death, from the German, 328
Debate, the Reform, in the Lords, 848. See Reform
Delta, the Moonlight Churchyard, by, 237—Lines written at Kelburne Castle, Ayrshire, by, 953
Domestic Manners of the Americans, 829
Dumont's Recollections of Mirabeau, 753
Dunbar, Professor, and Mr E. H. Barker, letter from, 405
Edinbro', Impressions of, by P. Rooney, Esq. Letter I. 783—Letter II. 786
Education, new project of, in Ireland, 289

Elvar, Maid of, 981—Thomson, ib.—Home, ib.—Grahame, 982—Sir Walter Scott, 983—Campbell and Joanna Baillie, 984—Moir and Pollok, ib.—Ramsay, 985—Fergusson, ib.—Burns, 986—The Ettrick Shepherd, ib.—Allan Cunningham, ib.—Review of his Maid of Elvar, 988
Executioner, the, Chapter II. 483
Family Poetry, No. III. The Play, 550
Finances, the British, 598—Decline of revenue since the Reform bill was brought forward, 600—Increase of expenditure, 603—Pitt's financial system, 605—Its errors, ib.—Its advantages, indirect taxes and the Sinking Fund, 607—Abandonment of the Sinking Fund, 610—Repeal of taxes on consumption since the peace, 611—Reform deficit, 620
Flower, the, of the Desert, by Mrs Hemans, 219
Forging of the Anchor, 283
Fortune, the Hour of, 944
French Memoirs, No. II. Révélations d'une Femme de Qualité, 222
Gaffer Maurice, by the translator of Homer's Hymns, 504
Gifted, Song of the, by Mrs Hemans, 781
Government, art of, made easy, 665
Government, the Papal, 535
Haul away, 643
Hemans, Mrs, the Swan and the Skylark, by, 216—Let us depart, by, 218—The Flower of the Desert, by, 219—The Painter's Last Work, a scene, by, 220—The Freed Bird, by, 278—The Song of the Gifted, by, 781
Hölty, Ismene and Leander, from the German of, 881
Homer, Sotheby's, Critique V. 145
Homer's Hymns, No IV. The Humours of Hermes, 319—No. V. Ceres, 742
Horatian Version (Epodon VII.) on meeting the Birmingham mob, Dec. 1831, 285
Horse, the, by the Rev. F. W. Maltby, 200
Hour of Fortune, 944
House of Orange, the, 362
Hymn, a Poet's dying, 622
Hymns, Homer's, No. IV. 319—No. V. 742
Impressions of Edinbro', by P. Rooney, Esq. Letter I. To Thaddeus M'Vane, Esq. 783—Letter II. 786
Ireland, new project of education in, 289
Ireland, Protestant affairs in, 77—Dissatisfaction with the proceedings of the Viceroy, 78—A public meeting resolved on, 79—Lord Roden's speech, ib.—Lord Longford's, 80—Lord Farnham's, ib.—Colonel Perceval's, 82—The Rev. Holt Waring's, 84—Lord Mandeville's, 89—Mr Crommelin's, 89—Concluding speech of Lord Roden, ib.
Irish Scenery, and other things Irish, 379
Ismene and Leander, 881
Jamaica, Scenes in, 884
Janizaries, the Aga of the, 239
Jewess of the Cave, 820. See Cave
Kelburne Castle, lines written at, by Delta, 953
Kemble, Miss Fanny, her Tragedy, 673
Lakes, Christopher at the, 858
L'Envoy, 423
Letters from Mr Courtenay, 520, 951
Letter from Professor Dunbar and Mr E. H. Barker, 405
Letter from Satan to the Whigs, 665
Letters, intercepted, from a Roman Catholic clergyman residing in Ireland to a friend in Rome, 19—Letter I. Flattering prospects of the Romish Church, ib.—Letter II. Internal arrangements of the Romish Church, 23—Letter III. Tactics of the Romish Church, 27—Letter IV. Disadvantages under which the Established Church labours, 31—Letter V. The Protestant cause weakened by the unskilful use of patronage, 35
Letter to the Lord Chancellor on the state of the Established Church, 181
Let us depart, by Mrs Hemans, 218
Lines written at Kelburne Castle, Ayrshire, by Delta, 953
Living Poets and Poetesses, 957
Log, Tom Cringle's, 195, 884
London, the Philosophy of, 353
Lords, the Reform debate in the, 848. See Reform
Maid of Elvar, 981. See Elvar
M'Gregor's British America, 907
M'Queen, James, Esq. letter from, on the geography of Africa and Quarterly Review, 201
Maltby, Rev. F. W. the Horse, by, 200
Manners, domestic, of the Americans, 829
Meeting, the great West India, 807. See West India
Memoirs, French, No. II. Révélations d'une Femme de Qualité, 222
Ministry, the, and their supporters, 566—Their blunders, ib.—Their subserviency to the Radicals, 568
Mirabeau, Recollections of, 753
Mistule, Tory, 772
Moonlight Churchyard, by Delta, 237
Nautical Adventures, 506
Noctes Ambrosianæ, No. LX. 255—Strangulation, ib.—The Jaundice, 257—The Wellington Arms, 258—North a rejected contributor to THE MAGAZINE, 261—Character of Nestor in the Iliad, 267—Bohemian musicians, 270—Musical ear, 273—Stanzas to Music, 275—Modern poetry, ib.—The Freed Bird, by Mrs Hemans, 278—Carmen Latine Redditum, 279—Marine poetry, 280—The Forging of the Anchor, 281—Colonel Brereton, 284—Horatian Version (Epodon VII.) on meeting the Birmingham mob, December 1831, 285—A new song, to be sung by all loyal and true subjects, 286.——No. LXI. 693—Goethe, ib.—Poverty of Germany in self-taught poets, 695—in novelists, 696—in theologians, 697—Hope, 699—Admiration, 704—Desire, 707—Human happiness, 709—Patriotism, 715—Character of the mind of this country, 716—Physical and moral science, 719

Orange, the House of, 362

Painter, the, his Last Work, a Scene, by Mrs Hemans, 220

Papal Government, the, 535

Parliamentary Reform. See Reform

Parties in the State, Present Balance of, 425—Sir John Walsh's character of Whig and Tory, 428—His account of the remote origin of the Radical party, 430—Conduct of the Whigs during the war, 432—after the peace, 433—State of parties at the breaking up of Wellington's administration, 435—Reform question, 436—Ireland and O'Connell, 438—The Whig government not generally popular, 439—Prospects of the country, 441—Burke's exposure of the fallacy, That the many have a right to act by their will in matters of duty, trust, engagement, or obligation, 442—Conclusion deduced by Sir John Walsh from his view of the present state of parties, 444—The Moderates, 445—The real views of Reformers, 446

Peers, a creation of, 386

Philosophy, the, of London, 35

Play, the, 550

Poems, Tennyson's, 721

Poetry, American, W. C. Bryant, 646

Poetry—The Horse, by the Rev. F. W. Maltby, 200—The Swan and the Skylark, by Mrs Hemans, 216—Let us depart, by the same, 218—The Flower of the Desert, by the same, 219—The Painter's Last Work, a scene, by the same, 220—The Moonlight Churchyard, by Delta, 237—Stanzas to Music, 275—Roger Goodfellow, 276—The Freed Bird, by Mrs Hemans, 278—Carmen Latine Redditum, 279—The Forging of the Anchor, 281—Horatian Version (Epodon VII.) on meeting the Birmingham Mob, Dec. 1831, 285—A new Song, to be sung by all loyal and true Subjects, 286—Homer's Hymns, No. IV. The Humours of Hermes, 319—Gaffer Maurice, by the translator of Homer's Hymns, 504—Family Poetry, No. III. The Play, 550—Satan Reformer, by Montgomery the Third, 592—A Poet's Dying Hymn, 622—The Canny Courtship, 639—Haul away, 643—Homer's Hymns, No. V. Ceres, 742—The Song of the Gifted, by Mrs Hemans, 781—The Jewess of the Cave, 822—Ismene and Leander, from the German of Hölty, 881—Lines written at Kelburne Castle, Ayrshire, by Delta, 953—The Old Man's Sigh, a sonnet, by S. T. Coleridge, Esq. 956

Poets and Poetesses, living, 957

Poet's Dying Hymn, 622

Premier, the, and his Wife, a story of the great world, 91

Prospects of Britain, 569

Protestant Affairs in Ireland, 77. See Ireland

Public Feeling in Scotland, state of, 65. See Scotland

Reform Debate in the Lords, 848—Speech of Lord Grey, 849—of Lord Ellenborough, ib.—of the Earl of Shrewsbury, 850—of Lord Mansfield, ib.—of Lord Harrowby, ib.—of the Duke of Wellington, ib.—of Lord Wharncliffe, ib.—of Lord Winchilsea, ib.—of the Duke of Buckingham, ib.—of the Earl of Radnor, ib.—of the Bishop of Lincoln, ib.—of Lord Falmouth, ib.—of the Bishop of Exeter, ib.—of the Bishop of Llandaff, ib.—of Lord Lansdowne, ib.—of Lord Wynford, 852—of Lord Durham, ib.—of Lord Goderich, ib.—of Lord Eldon, ib.—of the Lord Chancellor, ib.—of Lord Lyndhurst, ib.—of Lord Grey, ib.—The vote, ib.—Conduct of Lord Harrowby, 853—How the mischief done may be repaired, 855

Reform, Parliamentary, and the French Revolution, No. XIII. Revolutionary concession; the new bill, 103—Summary of former papers, ib.—Prosperity of France before the late revolution, 105—Its present depression, ib.—Changes of ministry, 106—Abolition of old institutions, ib.—Financial distress, 107—Increased misery of the people the invariable effect of democratic ambition, ib.—Diagnosis of this picture of political disease, 108—An equally striking proof of the ruinous effects of concession to democratic ambition afforded by Ireland, ib.—and by Belgium, 110—The objects of Reformers, 111—Stagnation of industry, ib.—The new bill more democratic than the old one, 113

Reform Passion, Remote Causes of the, No. I. 1.—Retrospect of English history, shewing the attachment of the people to old institutions, 2—A regard for religion the cause of Roman greatness, 6—Contempt for it the cause of Roman decline, ib.—Real love of freedom, what, ib.—Passion for democracy, what, 7—Its progress, ib.—Character of the supporters of democratic power, 8—Alliance between the passion for democracy and the principles of infidelity, 9—Union of the spirit of freedom with genuine devotion, ib.—character of modern literature, 11—Cobbett's opinion of the daily press, 12—Cobbett v. Brougham on the education of the people, 13—Infatuation of the Liberals on political subjects, 14—Their blindness to the lessons of experience, and its causes, 15—Fatal effects of the iteration of erroneous doctrines, 16—All the great interests of the empire threatened, 18

Republican, Calaspo, the, 928

Révélations d'une Femme de Qualité, 222

Review, Quarterly, and Geography of Africa, letter from James M'Queen, Esq. on, 201

Revolutionary Concession, 103

Revolution, the French, Parliamentary Reform and, No. XIII. 103. See Reform

Revolution, the late French, Salvandy on, 965—Destruction of the hereditary Peerage, 968—New creations, ib.—The recent similar attempt in this country, 970—State of France after the late Revolution, 971—Its real state under the Restoration, ib.—The system of popular intimidation the same in France and England, 972—National Guard, 974—Changes in the electoral body and power of parliament, ib.—French press, 976—Influence of the class a little above the lowest, ib.—French literature, 977—Doctrine of a general division of property, ib.—Decay of religion and morality, 978—Dissolution of the hereditary Peerage, ib.—Applicability of the remarks of this author to the state of this country, 979

Riots, Bristol, 465. See Bristol

Roger Goodfellow, a song, 276

Roman Catholic Clergyman, intercepted letters from a, 19

Rugen, Castle of the Isle of, 790

Salvandy on the late French Revolution, 965

Satan, letter from, to the Whigs, 665

Satan Reformer, by Montgomery the Third, 592

Scenery, Irish, and other things Irish, 379

Scenes in Jamaica, 884

Scotland, state of Public Feeling in, 65—Union of Whig Aristocratic and Democratic influence against the middling classes, ib.—Meetings of the Conservative party in Glasgow, Berwickshire, Aberdeenshire, and Perthshire, 66—Edinburgh meeting, ib.—Professor Wilson's speech, 68—Mr M'Neil's speech, 74—Publication of the reports of the Speeches, 75

Snowing up of Strath Lugas, 496

Song, a new, to be sung by all loyal and true subjects, 286

Song of the Gifted, by Mrs Hemans, 781

Sonnet, what is an English, by S. T. Coleridge, Esq. 956

Sotheby's Homer, Critique V. Achilles, Part II. 145

Stanzas to Music, 275

Strath Lugas, Snowing up of, 496

Swan, the, and the Skylark, by Mrs Hemans, 216

Tennyson's Poems, 721

Tory Misrule, 772

Traveller, the, in spite of himself, 53

West India Meeting, the great, 807—Remote cause of the late insurrection, 808—Speech of Lord Howick, 809—Proclamation of June 1831, 810—The missionaries, 811—Acts in Council of June and November 1831, 812—Protest of the inhabitants of Dominica, 813—of St Kitt's, ib.—Of St Lucie, 814—of Trinidad, ib.—of Jamaica, 815—Existence of the empire threatened by the conduct of Ministers, 816—Mr Brougham's opinion of the importance of Colonial Trade, 817—Mr Palmer's statement, ib.—Mr Canning's resolutions, 818—Mr Warrington's remonstrance against the present proceedings, ib.—Earl St Vincent's, ib.—The point at issue between the mother country and the Colonies, 819

West India Question, Introduction, 412—General discontent in the Colonies, ib.—Precipitance in forcing upon them emancipation of the Slaves, 414—The friends of emancipation ought to follow the steps of Providence in the past extrication of the human race from servitude, 418—African Negroes unfit to conduct themselves as freemen, 419—Consequences of innovation in St Domingo, 420

Wet Wooing, a narrative of Ninety-eight, 624

What caused the Bristol Riots? 465

Whigs, letter from Satan to the, 665

Wooing, the Wet, a narrative of Ninety-eight, 624

445

Printed by Ballantyne and Co., Paul's Work, Edinburgh.